Definition

Wetherby High School has adopted the Equalities Review 2007 definition of an equal society which strengthens our approach to equality and diversity. The definition is:

‘An equal society protects and promotes equal, real freedom and substantive opportunity to live in the ways people value and would choose, so that everyone can flourish. An equal society recognises different people’s different needs, situations and goals and removes the barriers that limit what people can do and can be’

This policy covers the provisions of the Equality Act which became law in October 2010. As an employer, our obligations remain largely the same. The Act harmonises and replaces previous legislation (such as the Race Relations Act 1976 and the Disability Discrimination Act 1955) and ensures consistency to make the workplace a fair environment and to comply with the law.

Schools have a duty to consider and complete the Equality Impact Assessment, Appendix 1.

Introduction

Wetherby High School is committed to providing an environment free from discrimination, bullying, harassment and victimisation where all members of its community are treated with respect and dignity. The school pro-actively aims to create a culture of inclusion that celebrates diversity within its community, providing a dynamic working and learning environment where all members are valued for their contribution.

Our aim is to ensure that these commitments, reinforced by our values, are embedded in our day to day working practices with the school community.

Wetherby High School is committed to providing equality of opportunity for all irrespective of:

- Age
- Disability
- Race or racial group (including colour, nationality and ethnic origin or national origins)
- Religion or belief
- Sex
- Marriage and Civil Partnership
- Gender reassignment
- Pregnancy and maternity
- Sexual orientation
- Caring responsibilities
- Social class, or
- Trade union activity
- Level of deprivation

Our aims are to promote equality of opportunity for all in line with Public Sector Equality Duty, in line with Equality Act 2014 (Section 149):

- Complying with its legal obligation
- All our existing and potential service users are treated with dignity and respect
- Our partnership and contract arrangements promote equality of opportunity
- We will work with and between communities to help develop and strengthen relationships
- Our workforce will be reflective of all sections of society where possible
- Ensuring that both existing staff and students, as well as those who seek to apply to work or study with us, are treated fairly and that individuals are judged solely on merit and by reference to their skills, abilities, qualifications, aptitude, potential and circumstances.
- Ensuring that all contractors and service providers operating on behalf of the school are aware of this policy and expected to adhere to it.

Direct discrimination

Direct discrimination occurs when an individual receives less favourable treatment than another person in similar circumstances. This includes discrimination based on factual information, or the perception or assumptions relating to any of the above categories. Examples of direct discrimination include:

- Failure to short-list any BME applications even though they meet the relevant criteria.
- Refusing a woman a promotion because you are concerned that she might want to take time off to start a family in the future.
- Choosing not to give a female teacher a pay rise because she is pregnant
- Unfavourable treatment of an individual because they are suffering from cancer or are HIV positive

Indirect discrimination

Indirect discrimination occurs when there's a practice, policy or rule which applies to everyone in the same way, places a group who share a characteristic at a particular disadvantage. Examples of indirect discrimination include:

- Stipulating that people must speak clear fluent English where the job does not require verbal communication
- Refusal to consider part time working hours

Discrimination by association

Associative discrimination occurs when someone discriminates against someone because they associate with another person who possesses a protected characteristic.

- Unfavourable treatment because a person has homosexual friends or relations or because a person is married to someone of a particular religion.

Genuine occupational requirements

Indirect discrimination may on rare occasions be justifiable by law if it relates to a specific requirement of a job where race, sexual orientation, religion, belief or gender is a genuine occupational requirement for the job. For example, an advertisement for the post of Head Teacher

If such a requirement cannot be justified by an organisation, it may be deemed unlawful. An employment tribunal may deem a finding of unlawful discrimination even though an employer has no intention to discriminate.

Equality Information and Objectives

Context

Public Sector Equality Duty (The 'General Duty')

The Equality Act (2010) contains a general duty known as the public sector equality duty in which a public body (this includes schools) must give due regard to the need to:

- Eliminate discrimination, harassment and victimisation and any other conduct that is prohibited by or under the Act;
- Advance equality of opportunity between people who share a relevant protected characteristic and people who do not share it;
- Foster good relations between people who share a relevant protected characteristic and those who do not share it.

Specific Duties

To be able to fulfil the three aims of the general duty, public bodies have been given two sets of specific duties:

- To publish information which demonstrates compliance with the duty to have due regard to the need to eliminate discrimination and harassment, advance equality and foster good relations, this should include what has been achieved as a result;
- To prepare and publish specific and measurable objectives which will be pursued over the coming years to achieve the three aims.

Equality Objective One

To eliminate all forms of prejudice-based incidents towards people who share a protected characteristic and implement an open culture of understanding, acceptance and positivity.

Equality Objective Two

To close the achievement gap by ensuring there is no significant difference in the progress made by different groups of learners.

Equality Objective Three

To ensure that all students have access to personal development opportunities and high quality CEIAG.

Some things we will do to achieve these objectives are:

- Continue to work with a relationship lead and restorative approach
- To celebrate diversity across the school community by developing understanding of protected characteristics.
- To use student, parent, staff and governor voice to work with the school community
- Continue to use the Coaching programme to share understanding
- To develop understanding of Peace Education to move towards eliminating structural and cultural violence.
- Promote and actively seek opportunities for equity of provision
- Hold the highest expectations of all students
- Provide a high-quality curriculum that meets the needs of all
- Provide high-quality teaching and learning
- Use Pupil Premium funding to close gaps
- Increase diversity of the staff team
- Set a high standard through personal staff behaviour

Equality Impact Assessment

Equality, Diversity, Cohesion and Integration Screening

As a school via the public authority we need to ensure that all our strategies, policies, service and functions, both current and proposed have given proper consideration to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration. Please also take due regard of Equalities considerations

A screening process can help judge relevance and provides a record of both the process and decision. Screening should be a short, sharp exercise that determines relevance for all new and revised strategies, policies, services and functions. Completed at the earliest opportunity it will help to determine:

- The relevance of proposals and decisions to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration
- Whether or not equality, diversity, cohesion and integration is being/has already been considered, and
- Whether or not it is necessary to carry out an impact assessment.

3 Relevance to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration

All the school's policies affect service users, employees or the wider community – city wide or more local. These will also have a greater/lesser relevance to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.

The following questions will help you to identify how relevant your proposals are.

When considering these questions think about age, carers, disability, gender reassignment, race, religion or belief, sex, sexual orientation and any other relevant characteristics (for example socio-economic status, social class, income, unemployment, residential location or family background and education or skills levels).

Questions	Yes	No
Is there an existing or likely differential impact for the different equality characteristics?
Have there been or likely to be any public concerns about the policy or proposal?
Could the proposal affect how services are organised, provided, located and by whom?
Could the proposal affect our workforce or employment practices?
Does the proposal involve or will it have an impact on <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Eliminating unlawful discrimination, victimisation and harassment• Advancing equality of opportunity• Fostering good relations

4 Considering the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration

If you can demonstrate you have considered how your proposals impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration you have carried out an impact assessment.

Please provide specific details for all three areas below (use the prompts for guidance).

- How have you considered equality, diversity, cohesion and integration?
(think about the scope of the proposal, who is likely to be affected, equality related information, gaps in information and plans to address consultation and engagement activities (taken place or planned) with those likely to be affected)

- Key findings
(think about any potential positive and negative impact on different equality characteristics, perception that the proposal could benefit one group at the expense of another)

- Actions
(think about how you will promote positive impact and remove/reduce negative impact)
